No mass milk dumping demonstrations were planned Wednesday by National Farmers Organization members and sympathizers.

Flareups Of Violence Seen In NFO Move

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Farmers Organization's milk holdback went into its seventh day today with new flareups of violence but no clear evidence of rising prices or shortages.

A bullet penetrated a tank truck on U.S. 41 near Lake Village, Ind., and about 20,000 gallons of milk spilled on the road.

Donald Henderson of Elkton, Mo., who reported the attack, said he couldn't plug the leak, he had been driving to Cincinnati.

A blast, apparently caused by dynamite, wrecked a 2,000-gallon milk truck parked in front of the home of the driver, Hugh Glascock, in Chapel Hill, Tenn. Nobody was injured.

The violence occurred despite an injunction against harassment of milk truckers. An attorney for Nashville Milk Producers Inc. for which the trucker headed milk, said they plan to seek $1 million in damages because of vandalism.

A survey showed no clear-cut evidence of rising prices or shortages.
